

On the FastForward beat, we met a man who refused to grow up. After learning about his magic house, collection of 18,000 movies, two circuses, and monthly trips to amusement parks around the country, we were convinced: Richard Tuck really is the coolest grown-up — ever.

Beach. He has to divide his time between work and fun, and, lucky for us, Richard shared with us the things he does to have fun.

Shortly after introducing himself, Richard Tuck, the owner of Lander

As reporters, we made a trip to El Cerrito to interview a man about the museum he is creating, but we left with the big picture of the life of Richard Tuck— and his life is gigantic! Richard is the owner of a successful computer consulting business and in his free time he is creating a museum in tribute to an old San Francisco amusement park, Playland At The
